

Industry

STENTOFON industrial reliability in all elements

From the initial primary sector converting natural resources into primary products to the secondary sector of manufacturing, Zenitel's success within the Industry sector lies in its ability to deliver totally integrated security systems. Regardless of the working conditions, there is a STENTOFON AlphaCom specialist stations or terminal for every environment and the STENTOFON system itself is adaptable to the size of the company now, and as it grows.

Offering flexible integration to CCTV, voice communication, alarms, access control and remote control functions, the STENTOFON intercom exchange can perform almost any conceivable logic, control, mathematical or time related function, with endless possibilities for: routing and re-routing a call, an alarm function, a barrier control and more. Unlike a telephone system, the STENTOFON system continuously monitors all connections, allowing you to make that one vital call and confirming our reputation for reliability.

When communication is critical, look to the STENTOFON brand, the brand security professionals depend on.

